

Increased Value Creation with SAP Digital Manufacturing: FORCAM ENISCO and adesso Partner up

Following a successful automotive partnership: Partners support companies in implementing SAP Digital Manufacturing

Böblingen/Dortmund (Germany), May 2026 – Smart factory specialist FORCAM ENISCO and IT service provider adesso have entered into a partnership. The goal of the collaboration is to guide manufacturing companies on their journey to the cloud and support them in the implementation and operational use of the cloud-based MES solution SAP Digital Manufacturing (SAP DM).

The partners are combining their expertise to enable their customers to achieve end-to-end processes from the machine level to enterprise management. This allows customers to benefit from seamless digital process chains as well as practical consulting, implementation, and training all from a single source.

Two Strong Partners for Digital Manufacturing and SAP Transformation

Within the framework of the partnership, the two partners complement each other with their individual strengths. adesso business consulting AG, the SAP consulting arm of Germany's largest IT service provider, adesso, possesses in-depth process, consulting, and implementation expertise in the SAP Public Cloud, particularly with regard to discrete and process manufacturing.

FORCAM ENISCO complements this expertise with technical know-how in the areas of production and logistics. The smart factory specialist also has access to certified teams for SAP DM and, with AC4DC, offers an innovative solution for shop floor connectivity and AI-ready production data within its own portfolio.

Together, the partners offer their customers a comprehensive and well-founded consulting and implementation portfolio that enables the integration of discrete and process manufacturing—both on-premises and in a private or public cloud.

Joint projects between the partners at leading automotive customers demonstrate how the integration of real-time manufacturing data into SAP process environments increases efficiency and transparency. The combination of FORCAM ENISCO's expertise in Manufacturing Execution Systems (MES) and adesso's SAP and cloud know-how accelerates the implementation of smart manufacturing scenarios and helps customers future-proof their production landscapes.

Joint training programs at the FORCAM ENISCO ACADEMY

To support the collaboration, the partners have already launched joint training programs at the FORCAM ENISCO ACADEMY. The goal is to prepare teams of customers and partners for the implementation and operation of SAP Digital Manufacturing—from the basics to in-depth integration scenarios.

Konstantin Lackmann, VP SAP Business at FORCAM ENISCO, says: “The future of manufacturing lies in cloud-based solutions that intelligently connect machines, data, and people. Together with adesso, we support companies in successfully implementing SAP Supply Chain Management and using it productively—with best-practice experience from real-world projects and practical training offerings from our FORCAM ENISCO ACADEMY.”

Jörg Pütz, Head of Digital Supply Chain at adesso business consulting AG, adds: “SAP Digital Manufacturing is a central building block for digital transformation in manufacturing. Through our partnership with FORCAM ENISCO, we are combining technological expertise and industry experience to create scalable cloud MES solutions with measurable added value for our customers.”
